BE SYSTEMATIC AND INCREASE YOUR REFERRALS!

You are more likely to refer business to people whom you know, like and trust. By systematically scheduling a One-on-One Business/Strategy Meeting with another member of your chapter each week you will have the opportunity to deepen those professional relationships and further educate your team on what constitutes a good referral for you.

Use this worksheet to reference who you have met with outside of your regularly scheduled BNI meeting and the focus of that conversation.

Goals:

Goals are the financial, business, educational, and personal objectives you want or need to meet for yourself and for people who are important to you. The best way to develop a relationship is by helping someone achieve something that's important to them. If you do, they'll remember you when you need help achieving your goals.

Accomplishments:

Some of your best insight into others comes from knowing what goals they have achieved, what projects they've completed, what they have accomplished both for themselves and for others. Your fellow member's knowledge, skills, experiences, values, and beliefs can be surmised from their achievements.

Interests

Your interests – the things you enjoy doing, talking about, listening to, or collecting – can help you connect with others. People are more willing to spend time with those who share their interests or know something about them.

Networks

How would it benefit you to know what other networks, both formal and informal, that your fellow members are involved with? A network could be an organization, institution, company, civic, religious or professional associations, etc.

Skills

As for Skills, the more you know about the talents, abilities, and assets of the people in your network, the better equipped you are to find competent, affordable service when you or someone you know needs help.

Contact Sphere Worksheet

Contact Spheres are businesses or professions that naturally provide a source of referrals for one another. They are in somewhat related but noncompetitive businesses. Businesses in a Contact Sphere have a symbiotic relationship in that they support and enhance one another.

Let's review the system!

It's as simple as scheduling one Business/Strategy Meeting each week with one of your BNI members.

Set Time and Date

- Restaurant
- Someone's Office (preferred)

Pick a time to meet. It's better if you meet at someone's office because you can learn more about their business that way.

Prepare Your Worksheets

- Member Bio Sheet
- GAINS Profile
- Contact Sphere Worksheet
- Last 10 Customers Worksheet

Take the time to prepare your worksheets in advance of your One-on-One Business/Strategy Meeting. The worksheets will help you share important information with your business partner about your business and how to find referrals for you.

Exchange Info Before the Meeting

Fax or email your four worksheets to your business partner before the meeting. Agree on a simple agenda for the meeting to honor their time commitment.

Bring Worksheets to One-on-One

Bring the same materials to the One-on-One that you faxed or emailed earlier. You should also bring other materials that could help you help each other. For example, you could also bring testimonials from satisfied customers, or brochures that your business partner could display on your behalf, or at a higher level, your Rolodex to share.

Meet with Your Business Partner

Meet with your BNI business partner and learn as much about how to find referrals for them as possible. Use the worksheets as a foundation to build upon.

Commit and Agree on Goals

- One short-term referral
- One long-term referral
- Invite prospects from your partner's Contact Sphere Top 3 list
- Schedule a follow up meeting (possibly at the other person's place of business)

Make a commitment to help your BNI business partner with referrals, both short-term and long-term. At the same time, invite prospective BNI members from your partner's Contact Sphere Top 3 list to help them build their network through BNI and their Contact Sphere. If you met at someone's office plan to meet at the other person's office the next time.
